

Julie's Tarot Reading

Tarot card combinations

Hierophant & the Two of Cups

What do they mean together?

The Hierophant represents traditional values & structured beliefs; so if you pull this card in a reading it suggests conforming to a set of social norms & following an established set of rules.

In a love reading, it suggests marriage or monogamous relationship & in a spiritual reading, it asks you to either find a mentor or be a mentor to others.

The two of Cups represents emotional connections either with friend / family member or a romantic relationship. In love this union speaks to engagement or marriage, where an emotional bond has deepened between two people, based on love & respect.

On occasion it can indicate a reunion with a past romantic connection – depending on the surrounding cards.

In summary

In love; this Tarot card combination indicates a deep emotional connection based on shared values – there is a strong commitment between both people.

In career; this combination suggests a need for individuals to form an emotional connection with each other or committed to achieving the same goals. Also you can see these cards as someone seeking guidance from a mentor.

In health; this Tarot card combination indicates sticking to traditional medical methods or professional. This person would benefit from emotional & spiritual support in order to heal.
